Finalists at Aegon Team Tennis Schools National Championships Aberdare and Glanville Cup Competitions

For the first time Peter Symonds College will be represented in both the Aberdare and the Glanville Cup Competitions at the 2013 Aegon Team Tennis Schools National Championships. The four day finals of this premier Schools Open event will be played at the Graves Tennis Centre in Sheffield in early July.

“We are over the moon that both our men’s and women’s tennis teams have qualified amongst the final sixteen in the country in both competitions,” says Liz Davies, the college’s Tennis Coach. “This is a premier National Open event in which the top junior tennis players in the country compete.”

She adds, “We are also extremely appreciative of the great facilities at Winchester Racquet & Fitness Club in Bereweeke Road, which we use on a weekly basis throughout the year. and we are grateful to Wilds Sports who have generously stepped up to sponsor the boys kit.”

Liz concludes, “Both teams have played some fantastic tennis to get this far in the competition and I am really proud of their achievements. They have produced some truly creditable performances and on behalf of the college I wish Jean-Marc Krone, Karl Grossey, Harvey Reed, Harry Jenkins, Hallam Doney, Alexia Yannaros, Oana Manole, Emily Kerr, Aileen McCulloch and Olivia James all the very best for the Finals.”

Every team (and player) will get LTA ratings from their matches and all teams are placed in the competition. They all play a match on each of the four days of the competition, but progress depends on the game results on the first day and they will either progress to the top eight or drop to the back eight.
